Biggest challenges for our children and young people – based on new belongings feedback

young people responded to the survey from a care leaver population of 943: a response rate of 40%

Education, employment and training

- 58% of care leavers were studying, working or training, and 42% were NEET. The latter compares to 11% of young people in the general population.
- Of those who were NEET, 36% were looking for work and 30% were unable to work due to disability/illness.

Housing

- 68% of care leavers reported that where they lived was right for them. As such, a smaller proportion of care leavers felt their accommodation was suitable than the statistics on suitability reported by the DfE (2022) for Hertfordshire (92%), and there was a notable difference to the proportion of 16 to 24 yr olds in the general population who felt satisfied with their accommodation (84%).
- Under half of care leavers in Hertfordshire (48%) 'always' felt settled where they lived, with 12% 'hardly ever/never' feeling settled.

Coping financially

- In comparison to young people in the general population (9%), care leavers in Hertfordshire were more than twice as likely to report financial difficulties (24%).

Feelings

- Care leavers were significantly less likely to feel confident in their ability to handle personal problems or that things were going their way 'very/fairly often' (37% and 24% respectively) compared to their peers nationally (50% and 37% respectively).

Loneliness

- Care leavers were nearly twice as likely to report they felt lonely 'often/ always' (19%) compared to young people in the general population (10%). 9% had not felt lonely at some point in the last few weeks. This was significantly lower than peers in other local authorities (17%).

Internet access

- Care leavers were notably less likely (86%) to live in households that had internet access compared to the general population (96%) (ONS, 2020b).

A Whole Council Approach to Corporate Parenting

Principles apply to the whole local authority and not just to children's services functions

Everyone from the Chief Executive down to front line staff, as well as elected council members, are concerned about those children and care leavers as if they were their own

Vital that all parts of a local authority beyond those directly responsible for care and pathway planning recognise they have a key role too

Embedded culture where council officers do all that is reasonably possible to ensure the council is the best 'parent' it can be to the child or young person

Children & Social Work Act 2017 Corporate Parenting

- Local Authorities must have regard for Corporate Parenting Principles.
- Local Authorities within this Act are defined as:
 - a county council in England;
 - a district council;
 - a London borough council;
 - the Common Council of the City of London (in their capacity as a local authority);
 - the Council of the Isles of Scilly;
 - a combined authority established under section 103 of the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009

Corporate Parenting Principles

Act

- in their best interests - promote their physical and mental health and wellbeing

Encourage

- the expression of their views, wishes and feelings

Take

- into account their views, wishes and feelings

Help

- them gain access to, and make the best use of, services provided by the local authority and its relevant partners

Promote

- high aspirations, and seek to secure the best outcomes

Help

- them to be safe, and have stability in their home lives, relationships and education or work

Prepare

- them for adulthood and independent living

Key Questions

Would this be good enough for my child?

Do all parts of the Council recognise their key role and act on this?

Are we doing all that is reasonably possible to ensure the council is the best 'parent' it can be?

A cleaner and greener environment

Sustainable, responsible growth in our county

Healthy and fulfilling lives for our residents

Treating Care Experience as a protected characteristic

Disadvantages faced by Care Leavers

The potential of care experienced people is enormous. However, outcomes for care experienced people today are extremely poor:

- 26% of the homeless population have care experience
- 24% of the prison population in England have spent time in care
- 41% of 19-21 year olds care leavers are not in education, employment or training
- Adults who spent time in care between 1971-2001 were 70% more likely to die prematurely than those who did not.

'It is truly inspiring that in spite of these injustices so many care experienced people go on to run businesses, start families, earn doctorates, become government ministers and change the world in countless ways' Josh MacAlister May 2022.

Care Leaver Homelessness

Letter from DfE and DLUHC: May 2024

- Letter from secretaries of state sent to all CEO's of all local authorities (district/borough and county) on 3rd May 2024 regarding Joint Housing Protocol's and duties to Care Leavers.
- Instructed local authorities to work with partners to develop a Joint Housing Protocol if they hadn't already (Hertfordshire's has been in place for over 10 years)
- Advised that JHP's should ensure they consider 3 key areas for care leavers:

Transition planning for Care Leavers	Prevention of Care Leaver homelessness	Responding to Care Leaver homelessness
Independent skills training to prepare them for adulthood	Commissioned services for care leaver accommodation	Intentionally Homeless Decision sign off process
Pathways for those not ready to live independently	Pathways for care leavers coming out of custody	Embedding corporate parenting principles throughout statutory services
Pathways for care leavers into social and private rented accommodation

CARE LEAVER COVENANT

CARE LEAVER COVENANT OVERVIEW

In July 2016, the Government published a major policy document 'Keep on Caring' to support young people from care to independence. A key policy commitment in the paper is a strategic pledge to introduce a Care Leaver Covenant. The Covenant is a promise made by the private, public and voluntary sectors to provide support for care leavers aged 16-25 to help them to live independently.

All young people who leave care at 16, 17 or 18 are statutorily provided with some support from the local authority in the region in which they live. This includes being assigned a Personal Adviser to help them in the transition to living independently; there should be support with finding accommodation and with any costs of participating in education, training and employment. However, in order to provide a greater level of support at this crucial stage during the transition of care leavers to adulthood, wider society also needs to play a part.

Undoubtedly, a large proportion of young people leave their care setting poorly prepared for independence. Typically, they lack the appropriate resource to acquire and hold down gainful employment as well as the skills needed to manage their financial affairs and domestic arrangements. They frequently do not have the social and emotional confidence or the family and friend networks that would provide the confidence and resilience to face the challenges of earning a living and making their way in society.

The aim of the Care Leaver Covenant, to which organisations commit, is to provide additional support for those leaving care; making available a different type of support and expertise from that statutorily provided by local authorities. Drawing on the resourcefulness and imagination of their staff and their working environment, organisations have the potential to offer new perspectives and professional expertise. These can offer opportunities and a new way of thinking to aid the care leavers in moving forward successfully to the next phase of their lives.

Each organisation that commits to the Care Leaver Covenant will be able to offer a support package to care leavers that is tailored to its specific expertise. The organisation would underpin its commitment to the Covenant with a specific 'offer', setting out what it can provide. Examples of the sort of activities that the offer might include, depending on the nature of the organisation, are:

- Providing care leavers with opportunities to enter the world of work, such as offering work experience placements, work shadowing placements, internships, traineeships and apprenticeships;
- Providing care leavers with additional support. For example, one-to-one mentoring or pastoral support and guidance on various aspects of their lives, financial guidance, career/employment guidance, educational prospects and opportunities;
- Providing care leavers with opportunities to broaden their horizons e.g. concessionary access to sport, leisure and cultural activities along with discounted retail offers;
- Encouraging their involvement in specific activities and events which inspire their personal interest and widen their employment prospects;
- Providing or supporting them in educational and training opportunities that will improve their vocational and educational profile and open up future employment opportunities.

STATISTICS ON LOOKED AFTER CHILDREN AND CARE LEAVERS IN ENGLAND

There are some 70,000 children in care in England for which the state provides financial support of the order of £2.5 billion. A majority of the children (75%) are fostered and the rest are in residential care.

The following facts and figures illustrate the often blighted and frustrated experiences of children in care and care leavers:

- In general about 38% of children in care have more than one placement during a year, while 11% had three or more placements
- 14% of children in care in 2016 achieved 5 or more GCSEs at grades A-C compared to 58% of children not in care*
- 40% of all care leavers of 19, 20 and 21 years of age (in 2016) were not in employment, education or training compared to 14% of all 19, 20 and 21 year olds
- The percentage of children in care gaining entry to university is 7% and this figure has not been improved since 2006; compared to the university entry in 2016 of around 40% of their peer group
- 20% of young homeless people have been previously in care
- Children in care are four times more likely to have a mental health difficulty, which in many cases is attributed to isolation and loneliness.

The quality of care is highly variable and often falls considerably short of what constitutes good parenting. Some young people lack the support and encouragement to benefit from a good education and their experiences out of school are not rich, in personal, social and cultural experiences.

Whilst there is overwhelming evidence that care leavers can find themselves at the 'thin end of the wedge', we also have first hand knowledge of many success stories, detailing how care leavers overcome adversity and succeed in spite of their circumstances. The Care Leaver Covenant is a kite mark for organisations who want to celebrate their contribution to helping care leavers have a greater chance at success.

CARE LEAVER COVENANT OUTCOMES:

1. Care leavers are better prepared and supported to live independently.
2. Care leavers have improved access to employment, education and training.
3. Care leavers experience stability in their lives and feel safe and secure.
4. Care leavers have improved access to health and emotional support.
5. Care leavers achieve financial stability.
